

Honorable Senator Barack Obama

June 3.2008

Dear Mr. Barack Obama

It is with the highest respect that I offer you my congratulations on your campaign as the next President of the United States. I have written you in the past outlining my mission as an educator, philanthropist, human rights and environmental activist. I felt it necessary to send you this correspondence today as you are nearing the finish line and rising above the crowd as a winner and prominent world leader.

It has been my wish for you to succeed and have kept you in my prayers. You have demonstrated your character through your words & actions to be a man of integrity who conducts himself with pride & honesty. As a result of your character you will be the next President of the United States.

I too am trying to make a difference in the world today. With this in mind I offer you these words:

The world of today is everlastingly changing, from our environment, poverty, food crisis, conflicts within nations and conflicts between nations. These problems are not getting resolved nor are they going away, but seem to be getting bigger and beyond our control. We as human beings are forgetting that we are all human beings; we have much more in common than we do differences and thus we should be focusing on our commonality. We need to come together and find solutions for the problems we face today, for mankind regardless of race or religion. I would like to kindly invite you to visit my website at www.omnisearch.org so that you may view my proposal for world peace.
