Re: United States Wall Street Economic Crisis putting the entire World in turmoil.

As a result of the U.S economic situation the United States citizens as well as citizens of the world are suffering. The innocent human beings and citizens of the world are not involved in politics, but are suffering because of politicians. They are taking this feeling not with dignity but with humility.

The credit for this mess goes solely to one single country which is the United States, U.S politicians/lawmakers, under the direction of George Bush 43 his administration and other republican politicians namely John McCain.

John McCain has been involved in politics, congress & senate for the past 26 years, and he has failed to protect the innocent citizens of the U.S, yet he continues to blame Obama who has only been in congress & senate for the past four years. If John McCain did not learn to fix the U.S problems in the past 26 years how do can he blame Obama who has only been there for four years.

I vehemently disagree with the republican based dirty political strategies. They chose Sara Palin as John McCain's running mate. I was quite happy with that choice in the beginning, but after seeing the financial mess in the U.S I have changed my view. Should Sara Palin become president of the U.S one day, I do not believe she can fix the turmoil in your country. The United States is not only faced with a financial crisis but they are also disconnected from the rest of the world with their foreign policy.

In the 2004 general election George Bush won the U.S election again with dirty political strategies. Prior to the election Osama Bin Ladin release several videos threatening terrorist attacks against the U.S, these videos were taken full advantage of by George Bush. He used them as scare tactics against the U.S citizens, they were convinced and he was re-elected as president.

I read an article on this website (Bush's Former Oil Company Linked To bin Laden Family), this article has brought me to the conclusion that George Bush might know where Bin Ladin is hiding. Bin Ladin's action to kill more than 3000 Americans around the world (including the 9/11 attack), he is a radical and does not represent Islam. Based on the 9/11 attacks, George Bush took drastic action and ordered air strikes in Afghanistan and defeated the state sponsored terrorist organization (Taliban), I believe he took proper action. George Bush, his administration and republican based congress & senate should have been focusing on eliminating terrorist organizations in Afghanistan with the help of coalition/allied countries (including Canada). He ignored to do so, and based on the Rense article I believe he knows where Bin Ladin is hiding.

I don't need any response as these are my views and advice the awareness of tomorrow's world.

Sincerely,

Mahmud Hussein
